To our clients, partners, and employees:

AFR is still operating our residential and office furniture divisions as an essential company during the COVID-19 outbreak. We are providing furniture to families displaced by the pandemic and other natural disasters like fires and floods. Our normal cleaning procedures have been enhanced and we are remaining vigilant in bed heat treatment processes.

In addition to our residential services, our office furniture division will also continue to operate to supply other essential businesses with any of their needs. We will be here to support federal and local government needs through our GSA (General Services Administration) contract.

We have essential staff in place to handle the current needs of our clients.

To contact AFR, please call 856.406.1200 or email residentialsupport@rentfurniture.com.

Our trade show and event divisions are currently not working until the government allows for larger gatherings. We will be ready to rebound as the world returns to normal. I wish our clients good health during this crisis.

I pray that we all return to our normal lives as soon as possible in good health.

Sincerely,

Jerry Hellmann
CEO, AFR Furniture Rental
